Would-Be Dictatorship Is Not Dead

The power-hungry leader has followed a definite formula from the time mankind first organized into tribes: (1) he builds himself as "the people's champion" against those in authority; (2) he seeks to prove that only he can give "the people" what they want; (3) he quarrels with one foreign power in particular; (4) he seeks alliances with other foreign powers then starts to destroy them one by one.

Those of middle-age remember how well this formula was used by Mussolini and Hitler as they first built their own power within their countries then sought to extend that power among nations.

The formula is now being used in detail by DeGaulle and Castro.

Note these latest moves by DeGaulle: (1) a new "strong constitution" was adopted which gives him the power to rule alone if the legislative body proves unfit; (2) he has proposed that the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance be extended from its original sphere to include the world; (3) NATO should be ruled by a three-power alliance including, of course, France.

Now note the direction in which he is moving: (1) old associates are being removed from government as the legislative body is put in a position of unfitness; (2) if a three-power super-directorate were established by NATO to co-ordinate policy the world over it is only natural to expect that his next move would be to divide the world into two partners then remove them one by one.

Now Castro: (1) he arose as "the people's champion" (2) he tells the Cuban people that the U. S. is at the root of all her troubles (even though Cuba derives its main support from U. S. purchases of sugar); (3) he has sought to woo the friendship of South American nations, particularly Venezuela.

Who was it said: "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty?"

"DISEASES ARE THE PENALTIES WE PAY FOR OUR NEGLECT OF THE MEANS OF HEALTH"

Your own body is a wonderful manufacturer of medicines for the cure of disease. As soon as any invading germ or virus attacks you, your blood rushes its weapons of defense to the danger zone.

If your health and strength are good you win the fight and the attack is defeated. But if your resistance is low, any disease can gain a dangerous foothold. Therefore it is wise to visit your physician for regular check-ups to make certain you have enough energy to fight off sickness. He can prescribe the proper medical medication.

FACE LOSSES
 The Veterans Administration today warned some 5,181 Alabama disabled veterans and widows and children of deceased veterans, who have not reported their annual income by Feb. 1, that their monthly non-service connected pension payments will be stopped.

One of the most underrated perils of a rain of snow storm is that you can't see others clearly and others have trouble spotting you.

4-H Council Meeting
 Have you ever seen boys and girls make plans for some activity? I had this experience in the 4-H club Council Meeting in Elba. We divided the boys and girls into three groups and each group was assigned about four things to discuss and make plans for. My group's responsibility was to plan the camp, the rally and the off-camp program first and I excused myself for about 15 minutes to give them a chance to really talk things over and Carrell and Farrell Wyatt of the Fairview 4-H club went to Birmingham last week to the State 4-H Council meeting. Carrell was elected President of council at the County level and being Carrell's twin brother, he just had to go to Birmingham with him.

We are confident that these two boys, who are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. T. Wyatt of route 3, Elba, made excellent representatives from Coffee County. Both boys do good project work, both are officers of their clubs and both boys are interested in helping other boys in their project work and in any way possible.

Carrell met with 66 other county council presidents to talk about plans for major 4-H activities on statewide basis. They were guests of the agricultural committee of Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

Projects
 February is an important month. Farmers begin turning land at an increasing rate, they repair terraces, repair fences and in general make plans for new crops. Coffee County 4-H club boys in February will report what they plan to have for their projects in 1960. Project work is the heart of 4-H club work. If there were no projects, much of the value of 4-H club work would be lost. So projects are mighty important.

If you have a 4-H club boy, won't you sit down and talk over his project plans. Boys can't do much without the help of their Mama or Daddy. Parents can give the help and backing that boys need. Boys are interested in doing things. If you have a 4-H club boy, I hope you will take time out to talk things over with him. Let's give our boys the backing they need.

come up with recommendations for a good camp. When I returned, they had already written their recommendations on a long sheet of paper in time they should go to bed to what they wanted for dessert. This proved to me again that boys and girls really think when given an opportunity.

We were delighted with the overall plans made by some 30 club members at this meeting. We plan to meet again in May and again in August. One of these meetings will be devoted to making an educational tour of some nearby point of interest. I was glad to see Mrs. Bess Carr from Kinston and Mrs. Arnett from Mt. Pleasant attending the planning meeting. We were disappointed that other parents and local leaders didn't attend.

These hands might have painted the world's greatest masterpiece. These hands might have played faultlessly the most difficult concerto. These hands might have mixed a compound that would destroy disease. These hands might have raised in blessing over a trusting mankind.

Instead they are chained. Somewhere, somehow, they failed. Perhaps they reached over a counter and stealthily snatched a jewel. Perhaps they searched a safe and took what other hands had worked for. Perhaps they held the gun that wiped out a life. Somewhere they went wrong. Somewhere they failed.

Hands do not act by themselves. Personalities control them - personalities swayed by impulses and convictions, good and bad. The Church, your Church, is waiting to guide hands, minds, hearts and lives. Here good impulses, right convictions are born and nurtured. Here, in God's House, hands learn to move aright to find life's work, unchained and triumphant.

 ALL FOR THE CHURCH
 The Church is the greatest factor in earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a challenge of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, good citizenship is an illusion. There are four main reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his family's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By T. C. Self

A. Grimes of the Curtis community has completed the planting of pine trees on his farm. Before planting, Mr. Grimes called on personnel of the Soil Conservation Service to assist him with the determination of proper spacing and fire prevention methods. Fire prevention is much easier if the trees are put in rows 10 feet wide. This permits dicing of fire lanes as needed each year.

Coffee County tree planting is still in progress. When the total acreage is known, a year's planting will be near a record year.

We note that much of the land going to trees is land that is not suitable for row crop production.

Seek happiness for its own sake, and you will not find it; seek for duty, and happiness will follow as the shadow comes with the sunshine.

Miss Lela Sawyer
Is Honoree
At Party

Mrs. Lamar Ralner Sr., Mrs. Carl Thomson and Mrs. Fredie Ralner entertained at the home of the former on last Thursday afternoon. Blazing fires crackled comfortably in the parlor and living room fireplaces creating a cozy atmosphere.

A mauve and pink color scheme was used. In the living room lavender "mums" were placed in several vases. The dining room was decorated with a spray of floating pink carnations.

The dining room table was covered in a linen cutwork cloth over pink. A fragile silver bowl held pink carnations which were flanked by pink candles. Trays of French pastries and tarts were passed to the guests who enjoyed using the hostess' hand painted china plates.

Miss Lela Ann Sawyer was a charming honoree in a dress of black crepe with a large white Puritan collar banded in black and black accessories. She was presented with a gift of hand painted china, and Mrs. Roy King and Mrs. M. J. Lee won prizes in the contest that were played.

Bonnie Taylor Club Entertained By
Mrs. Taylor

The Bonnie Taylor Home Demonstration Club held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. Eskar Taylor with Mrs.

Tombie B. Wakefield as leader to install new officers for 1960.

They are: President, Mrs. Everette Kelley; 1st vice president, Mrs. Lamar Wilcox; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Lamar Wilcox; 3rd vice president, Mrs. Eskar Taylor; Secretary, Mrs. E. L. C. Taylor; Devotional Leader, Mrs. Randall Hudson; Game Leader, Mrs. Edd Hudson; Song leader, Mrs. Lamar Wilcox; Parliamentary, Mrs. Cecil Moore; Reporter, Mrs. Eskar Taylor.

The meeting adjourned after a social hour with Mrs. Eskar Taylor as hostess. 12 members were present.

Honored

On January sixteenth at four in the afternoon, Miss Nancy Camley and Miss Lela Ann Sawyer were feted with a lovely tea given at the home of Mrs. Ross Smith, Mrs. Robert Marshall Jones of Fort Walton, Fla., was co-hostess.

In the reception rooms spring flowers and candles used in profusion created a bridal air. The dining table was covered with an heirloom ivory cloth and centered with an antique silver bowl of pink snapdragons on a silver reflector.

Sheffield silver candlesticks held burning pink candles and a silver coffee service was placed at either end of the table. Mrs. T. D. Kendrick served coffee and Mrs. Claude Dorsey poured tea.

The sideboard was adorned with pink carnations and plates of tea sandwiches. Miss Camley

Program On Hawaii
Is Heard By Study Club

The Elba Study Club held its regular meeting with Mrs. F. A. Farris with Mrs. Duke Taylor acting as co-hostess. Pink carnations in abundance decorated the living room and red carnations were used in the dining room.

A most interesting and unique program was presented on "Hawaii". Mrs. Kimmie Dorsey recently returned from a tour of these islands, gave a talk entitled "Our First Island State".

Wearing the native Hawaiian costume, Mrs. Dorsey was as attractive as the colored slides she used to illustrate her talk. The slides pictured the Messrs. Dorsey against various native backgrounds.

A musical reading, "Waikiki Blues" was given by Miss Mabel Brunson after which a vocal quartet sang "Aloha". The quartet was composed of Mrs. Fox Brunson, Mrs. W. C. Brunson, Mrs. J. C. Fleming and Miss Mable Brunson. For this performance the ladies wore the gaily colored Hawaiian costumes. Mrs. Mous Mous and Popponiers which added greatly to the affect.

After the program, refreshments were served to the members present. Ross and Miss Olive Camley served the forty guests who called. Miss Camley wore a two-piece dress of royal blue accented with a smart, blue and white cloche. Miss Sawyer wore a cloche. Miss Sawyer wore a cloche and both wore pink earrings.

62nd Anniversary
Of Wedding Is Observed

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Holley of Elba celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary Jan. 17 at open house.

Barbecue luncheon was served to more than 125 relatives and friends. Among them were the couple's five children, Clem and Luther Holley of Elba; Cyril Holley of Milton, Fla.; Mrs. Rex (Alice) Foxworth of Phenix City, and Mrs. C. B. (Cecilia) Hobbs of Dothan.

The couple's 25 grandchildren, 31 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild also attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Holley were married Jan. 18th, 1898 in Georgetown, Ga. In the home of the probate judge.

Mrs. Holley, who celebrated her 77th birthday on Jan. 1, is the former Nancy B. McCollough, daughter of Sing and Laura B. McCollough of Elba. She has seven brothers and four sisters.

Mr. Holley noted his 77th birthday on Jan. 14. He is the only child of Peter and Mandy Hall Holley. Peter Holley was born in Germany in 1850 and immigrated to the United States at the age of 14. Mandy Hall Holley lived near Brantley, Ala. prior to her marriage.

"Etiquette" was the program topic at the January meeting of the Twentieth Century Club held at the home of Mrs. Bryan Taylor. Mrs. Oscar Vaughan, Jr. was the co-hostess.

Artful arrangements of fall flowers provided the decorations. The club members were served a delicious evening meal upon arrival.

Mrs. Robert Cooper Jr. presided over the business meeting after which Mrs. Bill Martin announced the following program: "Luncheon, Breakfast, and Dinner". Mrs. Oliver Williams, "Dances, Chapters", prepared by Mrs. Roy King and given by Mrs. L. A. Boyd III. Members present were Mrs. Fred Clark, Mrs. L. F. Inman, Mrs. Charles Martin, Mrs. Duke Tatum, Jr., Mrs. Robert Cooper, Jr., Mrs. L. A. Boyd III, and the hostesses, Mrs. Bryan Taylor and Mrs. Oscar Vaughan Jr.

"That's as far as it's going,"

"We'll see. Who's carrying the more money got to that crippled pack train. He'd run off one herd; he guessed he could handle another.

After that, Shandy knew he would have to settle with Mordecai. He guessed he could handle that too, when the time came. It could work out awful easy for Shandy, at that. Mike Nesmith and Parson Bill Kerr were both put there now."

"Who else would it be—Shandy,"

"I don't think Shandy's with the train." Likely as sunrise, he was the one who had run off the ponies.

Big Nose stared morosely into the hazy past. He shook his head. "If Shandy ain't in charge, I don't know who is. Maybe no-

The Sweetwater divide was behind them now and the Platte was off to the right. A hot, gritty wind was playing the back of body."

"You are," Mordecai said. "And you're going to make it, too. Did Joe Hassell come back?"

"Nope."

"No word at all on the American Company train?"

"Nope." Big Nose got sizing up the herd. "You got enough horses to help some. Everybody's still have to walk."

Beaver Tails spotted the man on foot. He didn't yell Blackfoot, but the way him and the other Snakes took out you could figure

"I sent word to Jim Bridger. "Long way to rendezvous."

Big Nose was grumbling, but Mordecai could see that he was figuring too. "Lucky you didn't run into him."

Big Nose grinned briefly. "Did. Right at the start. Didn't even have my bearing yet. I was rolling along talking to myself and cussing Shandy. I seen half a Rhoda watched in horror as the Snakes rode a wide circle around their victim. "Is that all they think of—scalps?"

"About all. They're Injuns," said Merdecia.

The Snakes didn't get a scalp. They came back to the herd with dozen Sioux watching me, not fifteen rod away. For a minute I was so mad I didn't care. I started cussing them too.

"They didn't make no move, and then I begun to catch on. Thought I was crazy, they did. About that time I got scared enough back to see the fix I was in. More than tight, she was. I waved my arms around and made a speech, looking at the sky, making signs. Then I had me a vision, kneeling down, but I still had my eye on them. Injuns. It worked. They left me alone."

"Wagh! Mordecai said. "That'll be something to tell the boys when we're out to rendezvous."

"We can make it," Big Nose said, "but I don't know who we'll beat." After a time, he went on..

"What's the truth?" Mordecai asked.

Big Nose wiped dust from his lips. "This side of Red Buttes," "What's wrong with it?" "Everything." Big Nose eyed the ponies. "You ain't got enough to do the job."

"That'll have to be enough," Rhoda gave Big Nose a drink from her water flag.

slowly: "Thinking on it, I seem to recall Shandy had a man with him. Could've been two or three."

Mordecai gave him a dark stare. "I'm glad you're remembering something."

"Another thing—Lajole, he'd be one of the hunters—I had a little argument with him."

"I know which one he is. Anything else?"

"I gave him pemmican and rigged him a bridle. He ate as he rode, telling his story between bites. "Shandy!" Mordecai growled. "That's who I said. You got ears." Big Nose told his story flatly and defiantly. "I was drunk when he found me. He run me out of camp and that's it." "You couldn't have been too

We have no more right to consume happiness without producing it than to consume wealth without producing it.

—George Bernard Shaw

But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind, and thou shalt be blessed.

—(St. Luke 14:13-14)

We who enjoy richly the good things of life—love, health, happiness, freedom from want and anxiety—surely are called upon to share them with the less fortunate. Sharing indeed will be blessed, being always a privilege and opportunity of praising the Lord.
